Recent Studies By the AMA

show that stress is a contributing factor in 75% of all illnesses treated by internists and general practitioners.

Neuro-911™ provides the nutrients that brain cells need to manufacture the chemicals used in neurological processes.

INTELLECT is defined as the ability to learn and reason, as distinguished from the ability to feel or will. It's the capacity for knowledge and understanding.

THE BRAIN is fascinating. It is the portion of the central nervous system that is responsible for the interpretation of sensory impulses, the coordination and control of bodily activities and the exercise of emotion and thought. The brain is responsible for our highest function, thinking! Brain cells transfer chemical instruction to each other as often as one thousand times per second.

NEURO 911 is a supplement created by

For•Mor International to support the brain's nutritional needs. Brain cells are very capable of manufacturing the quantity of chemicals needed, if they have access to the nutrients needed to produce those chemicals. Within minutes of the NEURO 911 capsule dissolving, highly specific nutrients enter the blood stream and cross the blood-brain barrier, providing approximately eight hours of nourishment to replenish, balance and support the brain and mental activities. Many people haven't even thought to support nutrition for the mind!

NUTRIENT-DEPLETED SOILS AND FOOD SOURCES have made it nearly impossible to get our base nutrients, vitamins and minerals. Nutrients for brain function are no different. Factor in genetic predisposition, stress, injury, toxins, general lack of nutrition, or any combination thereof can hinder the ability of our brains to manufacture the chemicals it needs to function optimally. This imbalance creates a chain-reaction of damaging effects, compounding the initial problem. Use NEURO 911 daily to support your mental faculties.

IN TODAY'S FAST-PACED SOCIETY we have to think more, faster, and better. Life is fast-paced, and ultra-stressful situations are more commonplace than at anytime in history. With NEURO 911, there is no reason why even the most important function humans are capable of, thinking, must be compromised.

THE HUMAN BODY IS A VEHICLE. Understand that it absolutely requires fuel to perform optimally. The body can function for quite some time with substandard amounts of nutrients, but the price paid includes poor health, sickness, aches and pains, and general discomfort. The human brain is no different, and signs of deficiencies include fatigue, lack of energy and enthusiasm, and mood swings. Some deficiencies manifest in mental disease.

COMMON SENSE dictates that we supplement nutrients that we no longer get from our diets. When you think about it, NEURO 911 makes great sense!
